

Job sardine is the journey.

The sardine Job lived in the seas of southern Spain and had many friends as sardines. Job liked traveling and wanted to make other friends. That's why he went on a trip, but he did not know exactly where they should go so he started swimming. After a long time, he swam against an animal he had never seen and he wanted to be friends. He swam to it and quietly asked him his name. I called the Tog ray ray said. "I'm a bit lost," said Job, "do you know where we are?" "Now You swim in the Mediterranean, close to France," said Tog. "Shall we play tag?" Said Job. And they did. "Where do you come from?" Tog the early skate after a while playing with Job. "Usually I swim in the Atlantic Ocean off Spain in the neighborhood." "Why are you all this way?" Early Tog. "I wanted to get to know other friends and so I went traveling. Would you like to be my boyfriend and go on a journey?" "I'd really like that job. Come we swim this way, because you can find many other friends!" They swam on through the Mediterranean Sea. Job did many other creatures from the sea as well as common animals cute animals. After swimming a few hours they were both exhausted and they went some food. She just ate a sandwich with an egg on it. After dinner they swam back elated beyond. Then said the Tog Ray: "Look, there's an abandoned pirate ship." Then Job said: "I'll see what the ship is." He swam slowly through the dark back and when he bumped against something! ABOUT MY HOUSE enters the voice. Job enters your house. Then came the octopus emerged from the darkness. What are you doing here, he asked? I want new friends to take my trip to Flushing. Then came the Tog Rog also appeared and asked if he's on his way. But of course answered the octopus. She swam on through the Straits of Gibraltar. When they saw they were a little further four hooks in a square. They went to it to see what it was. Suddenly they were pulled up by something. They were 286 meters or pulled up. Fortunately, just above the water, the octopus saw a hole in the net. The octopus with its suction cups made it bigger. When the ray was Tog go swimming with Job and the octopus. They came at the end of the Strait of Gibraltar and arrived in the North Atlantic Ocean. They swam up and came out to France. Then they take a nap. Oh, yes, tomorrow is my birthday. Then he was awakened with a glass of fresh ink from the octopus. He said: Happy birthday. Then he had a backpack for trinkets. And a very nice piece of varnished oak. She swam on and saw an ad stating that they have a free ride for 10 km. It was a race of five kilometers long and they had an average 50 km per hour swim. Only Job did to them. He won in the nick of the Sjekkie Hengelvis. They won the West and drove to France with luxury water limousine. She swam away. And then suddenly a shark, a hammerhead terrible evil. The shark saw the three friends and thought "that's a tasty snack." The shark was fast approaching, but then did a good job hiding place, a cave in the rocks on the bottom of the sea. They quickly swam into the cave and slipped just in time. The shark does not fit in, but tried to squeeze into it. The three friends quickly swam deeper into the cave. When they were deep in the cave, they heard someone say, "Hey, who swims here in my house?" The voice was sweet. There is a light and see it very cute Job sardine. Hello, says the sardine, my name Sarretje. Who are you? I'm Job and these are my two friends, Tog the ray and Octopus. We travel to Flushing. Job said: You know sometimes where the Netherlands? Sarretje replied: "Yes, I know, but it's hard to explain." Shall I go? Immediately and seek, do you too? "Yes, sounds like fun! My name is Nemo, I'm an anemone Job says: "Of course". Then we go fast, but the shark is still there? If they look carefully, they see the shark stuck at the entrance of the cave. How do we get out of it? Sarretje say: "There is still a decline, so let's go outside". And so the four friends travel to the Netherlands, while Sarretje the way. After about 15 km swim Sarretje knew no more road. Then they saw a dolphin and said: 'Hey, maybe you know the way to the Netherlands? We lost.'The dolphin replied: 'Yes of course I know! My name is Squish, nice to meet you.', 'What are your names?', We are Sarretje, Job, Tog and Octopus.', 'Thank you for helping us.'So they swam with his 5s on their way to the Netherlands. Along the way they saw many beautiful fish that they had never seen. Also did they hide under their journey. Job was the smartest and smallest fish of all and hid in the coral reef. Nobody could find him when he suddenly heard a voice saying: 'Who are you? "Job turned startled and replied, 'I'm the sardine Job, we play hide fish.'After three pots began to get hungry and Nemo friends invited them to dine at his house for dinner. When they finished eating they traveled again, Nemo came along. They swam a lot further but then They were talking so much that they no longer pay attention to what was happening. When they were caught in a net which was hanging on a fishing boat. The boat took them quite far along, eventually they came from the net and had landed in the North Sea. ,, We're almost there"Splash said. They saw in the distance a little bit country. They shouted in unison: 'Land ho! "They were so tired from all that gezwem and all six fell asleep. Hours after they washed ashore. They asked where they had landed a crab. He said, You are on the beach at Vlissingen.', 'Finally, we are"they shouted all together. They were finally all together live in the North Sea and experienced many exciting adventures together.

This was the story of Job the sardine and all his friends.
